BAKER ENERGY AWARDED CONTRACT FROM CABINDA OIL COMPANY

HOUSTON - Baker Energy, a unit of Michael Baker Corporation (Amex:BKR), announced today the award of a $3.2 million contract from Cabinda Gulf Oil Company (CABGOC), a subsidiary of Chevron Corporation, for the provision of Operations, Maintenance and Training manuals and Virtual Plant Modeling for the deepwater Tombua-Landana project, located 50 miles offshore of Angola in Block 14.

“We are very excited about the role we will play in this deepwater project with Chevron, as we continue to grow our business in Southern Africa in 2007,” stated Rodd Smith, Baker Energy’s project manager.

Baker Energy works with oil and gas companies worldwide to provide total asset management solutions. By integrating its diverse operating and management skills, Baker has evolved into a single source supplier of competency-based personnel recruiting and training, comprehensive operations and maintenance, and supply chain management services.

Michael Baker Corporation (<http://www.mbakercorp.com>) provides engineering and operations and maintenance services for its clients’ most complex challenges worldwide. The firm's primary practice areas are aviation, environmental, facilities, geospatial information technologies, pipelines & telecommunications, transportation, water/wastewater, and oil & gas. With more than 4,500 employees in over 40 offices across the United States and internationally, Baker is focused on providing services that span the complete life cycle of infrastructure and managed asset projects.
